EDITOR'S NOTES

I'm not sure why I had such a hard time releasing this issue. I think it was because our Tribute 2 Playboy really came together.

You got Geneva, Hollie and Mandi all dressed as Bunnies...I love it!

Big thanks to Richard Santos, Richard Rendon and Mike McKee for helping to make my vision come true for this issue - that REALLY means a lot to me.

HW knocked it out of the park in her interview with Annemarie Davies, winner of "Entertainer of The Year" at Spearmint Rhino Gentleman's Club in 2006, a must read!

Thanks to Larry Coleman for his article on Playboy. He gives a new perspective to the new non-nude Playboy.

Lastly, as we all know...Baseball season started this month. Sara helps us celebrate the beginning of the season.

Thanks to everyone involved, everyone reading and all of our social media followers and fans.

That said...on to the next one!

STORY OF THE MONTH

Fuck Nagen!

What made me so sick about the finale was Rick, the fearless leader to most of the characters on the series The Walking Dead, on his knees.

What pissed me off even more than that was the jerk off Nagen killed one of us while the others sat and watched.

LIZ GLAZOWSKI

Glazowski was discovered by "Playboy" magazine after she submitted photos to the famous publication for their 25th Anniversary Great Playmate Hunt.

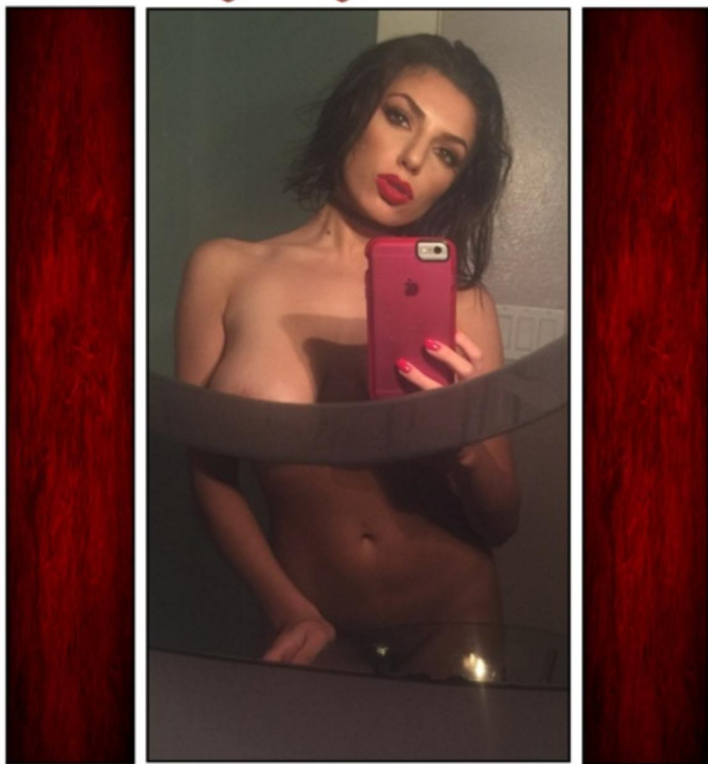

She was one of fourteen women who became centerfolds as a direct result of participating in this contest.

Liz was the Playmate of the Month in the April, 1980 issue of "Playboy."

Liz Glazowski's sole foray into film acting was a small role in the amusing lowbrow comedy romp "The Happy Hooker Goes Hollywood."

Q & A

Top Floor Magazine answers the questions submitted to the Playboy Advisor

My husband has been hinting that he would like me to get my nipples pierced. The problem is that just before we go to sleep each night he suck on one of them, which is so relaxing it promptly puts us both to sleep. He sucks off and on all night. I've heard that pierced that pierced nipples take six to eight months to heal, so I'm afraid that going through this will put an end to our time of closeness. What is your advice? - K.B., Windom, Minnesota

First of all, unless there is some type of complication like an infection or swelling - it usually takes six to eight weeks for a piercing to heal. There's a couple of things that you can do in the meantime. I suggest that you get one nipple done at a time. That way, your hubby can suck on your other nipple while you heal. How big is your clitoris? That's an option that Playboy offered. I'm not so sure you would be able to drift off to sleep with him going "downtown". The best advice is to do one at a time and let your hubby work around that.

My wife and I have been going to a strip club twice a month for the past year. She has become close to one of the dancers, who has given us her e-mail address and her real name. The two of them go to a back room to have private dances and do things that seem to go beyond a normal lap dance. How do I ask the dancer without offending her if she would be willing to hook up with my wife outside of the club? - P.N., Chicago Illinois

Believe me she won't be offended. Think of it as a business transaction. Dancers are not there for relationships, they are there for the money. It's something that you don't have to do in person. If you have her e-mail address, you or your wife can ask for an "appointment" outside the club. The worst thing she can say is no thanks - then you move on.

SILLY CHRISTIAN!

Christmas was the Winter Solstice
Easter was Ostara (the Spring Equinox)
Halloween was Samhain
Valentine's Day was Imbolc
May Day was Beltane
Tuesday was Tyr's (Tiw's) Day
Wednesday was Woden's (Odin's) Day
Thursday was Thor's Day
Friday was Freya's Day
Saturday was Saturn's Day
Sunday was the sun's day
Monday was the moon's day

YOUR CALENDAR IS PAGAN!

Easter, One of the major Christian holidays has just passed but do most Christians know that it was once known as Ostara, The Spring Equinox. Do we even teach children why we have such symbols as bunnies, chicks, and colored eggs? Probably not!

Easter or once known as Eostre (Pagan fertility goddess), hence the bunnies, chicks and eggs. It is a celebration of rebirth, renewal, and life. Christians have taken it and run it in to a candy selling Holiday that for most has lost all meaning, and just a reason to go to Church.

Most of Christian Holidays are taken from a Pagan origin. Please take the time to learn and educate yourself and others.

If we all accept everything we have been taught to be truth we lose a lot life has to offer. You also may learn something you never knew.

Remember every Rose has it's Thorns, This is one of mine!

Seriously?

Pop star Kesha's claims that producer Dr. Luke violated human rights and hate crime laws by drugging, sexually abusing and emotionally tormenting her were dismissed Wednesday, with a judge saying that rape isn't necessarily an act of gender hatred.

A 780-pound "monster" alligator slain in a Florida hunt and hauled out of the water with a farm tractor falls short of the state record for length, a wildlife official said on Wednesday.

The longest alligator caught in the wild in Florida was measured at 14 feet 3-1/2 inches, he said. The state record for the heaviest gator taken from the wild is 1,043 pounds, according to the commission's records.

Paris Jackson rang in her 18th birthday with some fresh ink, dedicated to her famous father, Michael Jackson.

Paris, who celebrated the milestone birthday on Sunday, took to Instagram on Tuesday to show off her new tattoo, consisting of the words "Queen of my heart" in her dad's handwriting, inked down the side of her left wrist.

"To everyone else he was the King of Pop. To me, well, he was the king of my heart," Paris captioned the sweet, black-and-white snapshot.

Teacher lets kids watch Fifty Shades of Grey, and major battle begins...Schoeneman rented it, Kohegyi played it, and by all accounts, everything was fine. None of the other parents, a school board representative said, had any objections to the film being shown to a bunch of kids who picked it out and were old enough to be subjected to its terrible character tropes, weird ideas about what healthy S&M play looks like and Dakota Johnson's comically large bangs.

Except for Reinert, that is. She's the parent of a 14-year-old who was on the trip — who didn't see the movie — and boy, was she mad.

But after he hawks a high tech stock that mysteriously crashes, an irate investor takes Gates, his crew, and his ace producer Patty Fenn hostage live on air. NOT IN THEATRES - THE PREVIEW WAS GREAT

Ant Man

Forced out of his own company by former protégé Darren Cross, Dr. Hank Pym (Michael Douglas) recruits the talents of Scott Lang (Paul Rudd), a master thief just released from prison. Lang becomes Ant-Man, trained by Pym and armed with a suit that allows him to shrink in size, possess superhuman strength and control an army of ants.

The miniature hero must use his new skills to prevent Cross, also known as Yellowjacket, from perfecting the same technology and using it as a weapon for evil

Scarface

Another questionable classic. You either love the film or despise it but either way...it's finally on Netflix. Personally, it's one of my favorites.

Album of the Month

TWENTY88 is a Groove Theory on steroids. Who out there knows the 90's group Groove Theory? Well, if you don't...they were comprised of singer Amel Larrieux and producer Bryce Wilson. They put out these really smooth, sexy tracks. Twenty88 does the same thing. The only difference is Big Sean is on the mic too with Jhené Aiko as the songstress. The music is just as smooth as Groove Theory but the pussy popping lyrics are raw and uncut. The lyrics are edgy but due to their delivery, nothing seems too over the top. I really hope these two decide to team up again.

Tracks to look out for - Selfish

HOTTIE OF THE MONTH Rihanna

Robyn Rihanna Fenty - (born February 20, 1988), better known as simply Rihanna, is a Barbadian singer and songwriter. She first entered the music industry by recording demo tapes under the direction of record producer Evan Rogers in 2003. She ultimately signed a recording contract with Def Jam Recordings after auditioning for its then-president, hip-hop producer and rapper Jay Z. Rihanna's first two studio albums charted on the top 10 of the U.S. Billboard 200 and respectively produced the singles Pon de Replay and SOS. It wasn't until after her controversial break up with singer Chris Brown that we became acquainted with the sexual side of her that we've have come to absolutely adore.

Marilyn Chambers

Marilyn Chambers (April 22, 1952 – April 12, 2009) was an American pornographic film actress, exotic dancer, model and actress. She was best known for her 1972 hardcore film debut Behind the Green Door and her 1980 pornographic film Insatiable. She ranked at No. 6 on the list of Top 50 Porn Stars of All Time by AVN, and ranked as one of Playboy's Top 100 Sex Stars of the Century in 1999. Although she was primarily known for her adult film work, she made a successful transition to mainstream projects and has been called "porn's most famous crossover". She had a starring role in Rabid, one of the most frightening films I've ever seen. During her early career as a model, her most prominent job was as the "Ivory Soap girl" on the Ivory Snow soap flake box. Chambers died in 2009 of a cerebral hemorrhage and an aneurysm related to heart disease.

The Queen of Sexy

This month, I'm very excited to interview the fabulously talented Annemarie Davies, one of the most well-known pole dancers in the world. She's a true pioneer in this sexy/erotic/athletic genre of dance. Active in pole dancing since 2002, winner of "Entertainer of The Year" at Spearmint Rhino Gentleman's Club in 2006, and producer of a major pole dance contest, the Pole Star Invitational/Los Angeles in 2008. Today, she's founder and CEO of United Pole Artists. Annemarie has done it all - from performing sizzling routines onstage to teaching in dance studios worldwide, blazing trails to bring pole dancing to the general public. Currently based in New York, she's ready to take it to the next level! Let's meet the Queen of Sexy!

TFM: Annemarie, it's awesome to have you with us! How did you get started in pole dancing and why are you known as The Queen of Sexy in the pole dance world?

AMD: Thanks for having me! The way I got started was by working in the strip clubs. I started off as a house dancer and when seeing the girls on the pole, I just had to be like them. They were so smooth, slinky and confident. But after five years of being a stripper, I realized I couldn't do it much longer. It's a difficult lifestyle and gets harder the longer you do it. But I loved performing and being on the pole so much. One day, I abruptly quit stripping and did what I could to find other work while still being able to pole dance. That meant teaching and working at a bikini bar called Jumbo's Clown Room. Things just kept moving towards pole fitness after that, but I always kept my sexy style. That's a big reason why I have my moniker. I never dropped the sexy style, even when pole fitness went through this phase of trying to drop sexy. My confidence has grown with my age, and I've learned that confidence is extremely sexy. One day someone called me the Queen of Sexy, and I was like "Okay, that's it, I'm taking that name!". I think it kind of takes balls to call yourself the Queen of anything. So, that's the confidence thing

TFM: When people hear the words "pole dancer" they often think of strippers or exotic dancers. But has the public's perception of pole dancing been changing over the years?

AMD: The public is a very large entity. So, in general has their perception changed? I would say no. In small chunks, yes, small parts of the public's perception has changed. Although it's not exactly what we want, it's a step in the right direction. Unfortunately, we have a larger battle to fight as women. Being that pole dancing is made up of 80% women, it is largely regarded as a female activity. Once women are completely free to do what they want with their bodies without being judged, then we as pole dancers will be free of judgement by the public as a whole. That is an uphill battle. So, I'm unsure if that will ever completely change. I could write an essay on this topic alone. This is my short answer. ;-D

TFM: Obviously, there's still a huge element of eroticism and sexual heat that's a big part of most pole dancing. What is it that you, personally, enjoy the most about the "sexy" aspect?

AMD: There is an element of power behind sexy. I'm not necessarily referring to the power we hold over men or even women by using sex, I'm talking about the power to be free. The power to tell the world with no words, "I am in control of my body and mind. I am making my choices based on my feelings about myself and not based on your opinion of me. Now watch me be me. Watch me take what's mine and do what I want with it." That is my favorite part of the sexy aspect.

TFM: You've danced in major clubs and venues around the U.S. including Hollywood, tell us a bit about what it was like working in the clubs, your craziest onstage (or offstage!) experience.

AMD: There were times when working in the strip clubs was amazing. It was truly a rock star life for me. Drugs, sex, drinking, high roller parties, celebrities, hot girls, hot guys and LOTS of money, limo rides, private jet flights. . I never will look back and feel like I missed out on something.

But things changed over time. I don't if it was me that changed or the game itself. The economy definitely changed, the money went down. The girls would do more to make the money we used to make. When I found Jumbo's Clown Room (bikini bar), it changed my life. The money wasn't as good, but it was fun to dance again. It was and still is like being in a sorority. The craziest thing.... well, one night, my best friend and I spent 6 hours in a sky box with some customers in Vegas for $500 an hour, each. So, we walked with over $3,000 from that night. We spent our time talking about football, doing cartwheels and drinking. We did very little "lap dancing". It was more like we were just being paid to party with them.

In the morning, my BFF called her friend who invited to take us home on his jet. So we hopped on a plane with him and flew home to Los Angeles that day. It was pretty cool.

TFM: Wow, that's crazy but very Vegas! Pole dancing has taken you to cities around the world. What's the most amazing place you've seen?

AMD: My most favorite city that I ever went to was Hong Kong. I LOVED it there. I also really like Singapore. I think what I like the most about the places that I've been is I get to see them from a local's perspective. Because we all know each other in the community, when we visit each other's places, we get to go around with each other as if we live there too. In Singapore, I spent a day running around back alleys of the city and getting caught in the rain.

TFM: Nice! That's the way to do it, like the locals! I've watched a lot of your routines on YouTube - WOW, you have some wild tricks and moves.

What's the most extreme move you do on the pole?

Do you have a signature stunt?

TFM: I agree. It's going to be amazing. What are your goals for UPA in 2016?

AMD: Well, I'll say our goals, because without my team, I would have an out of control monster on my hands. UPA has been growing so quickly quite recently and requires a team of people to monitor it. We have a lot of structure to put in place this year. Policies and procedures. Change is on the horizon. Our goals are to be more international, to be everywhere all the time. To effectively grow a larger team of responsible and conscientious people. We want more digital and text content. We want to live stream from all over the world. We want to educate and make a difference.

TFM: Finally - at the end of the stressful business day, what does the "Queen of Sexy" enjoy as her most sinful guilty pleasure?

AMD: I watch murder porn! Murder mysteries and crime shows are my absolute favorite. If I could get a second life, I would have been a homicide detective. I love problem solving and investigating. Getting to the root of the problem and creating a solution or an outcome.

TFM: Well, I have no doubt that if anyone can think it, solve it, or do it, it's YOU! Thanks so much for hanging out with me, it's been a blast! Best of luck with all your exciting ventures, I know you'll keep rockin' that pole, Ms. Davies!

AMD: This has been a real pleasure answering these questions! Thank you for the opportunity!

Honey West Presents

AMD: I don't do any of the really hard stuff that you see today. I would say one of my signature tricks is standing on the ceiling.

It's pretty easy, but is a real crowd pleaser. Maybe my straddle drop is the most extreme. If you don't re-grip at the bottom of the pole, there is a risk of hitting the floor pretty hard.

TFM: I'll take your word for it that standing on the ceiling is easy! That's wild! You're obviously a highly trained athlete with incredible strength to do what you do on stage. What's your training regimen?

AMD: I used to go to the gym all the time. Now I train simply by dancing. Most of my time is spent working and building my brand. So, I currently only train on the pole when I perform and teach.

TFM: If you won the lottery tomorrow and had unlimited $$ to design your ultimate "dream" pole dance routine or show, what would it look like - themes, costumes, music, etc;

AMD: My dream show would be a creepy one. A murder story. Lots of red colors, telling a story, shady characters. Or a ghost story. I've had a vision for years of doing a piece where I'm dead, but come to life for one last dance. Then someone finds an article of clothing of mine, realizing that my ghost was active while they were gone. That's all I can say though, because I don't want someone to steal my idea! I have the song, details and costume figured out already. ;)

TFM: Love it! Let's talk about your most important venture to date, United Pole Artists. What is UPA and what motivated you to start it?

AMD: United Pole Artists is my baby. I gave birth in 2009. Lol! Back then, I was unsure of what UPA was going to be.

I just had a feeling that pole dancing was about to explode and I had to be a part of it. There were a lot of people like me who were scoffed at for being strippers or pole dancers, but at the same time, everyone wanted to do it. So I thought, let's create a place where people can learn about pole dancing and the people behind it. In my mind, if there was plenty of information about pole dancing, it would be more acceptable to others. That's what motivated me. Getting people to change their minds. Knowledge is everything. If I could have a place where people could gain more knowledge, we all had an advantage. Those learning and those doing would all benefit.

TFM: One of the most exciting projects you've launched is a proposed documentary you'll be directing/producing called "Fistful of Steel". Tell us about that.

AMD: Fistful of Steel will be the catalyst for new growth and development of our industry. It will teach those who are new to pole dancing where this all came from. It will educate those who don't know much about pole. It will answer the "yes a stripper" "not a stripper" debate. It will tell a story that is long overdue to be told. There are so many people who have built this industry, people that not many others know about. There is no doubt in my mind that FFOS will be huge for all of us.

PLAYBOY

the END of the Sexual Revolution

I had heard rumors and read articles about PLAY-BOY going non-nude in January of this year. I have to admit that I really didn't believe it. I just thought it was some type of publicity stunt or a story the ONION newspaper created that had somehow gained traction.

For those of you that don't know...Playboy has played an important role in what most consider to be the sexual revolution.

Where men were men and there was nothing wrong with them looking at naked women.

In fact, Playboy made it into something cool.

Hugh Hefner created this world of tuxedos and gorgeous women, then invited us to come party with him.

Unlike other publications, where the women literally seemed like pieces of meat, the models featured in Playboy seemed as if they wanted to be there, they needed to be there, they wanted that photo taken so that they could do their part to advance the fight for women's liberation.

The photos found in Playboy weren't of a gal in front of a camera with her legs spread - oh, no!

In nearly every Playboy photo, you could literally feel that march and the burning of the bra.

Now, there are some that just did it for the money, their five minutes of fame or the notoriety...sure.

However, even those models became a part of something larger than their intentions.

It's no wonder so many of Hollywood's finest would strip away their inhibitions and pose in their most vulnerable state for the whole world to see.

Women like...

Nancy Sinatra

Kim Basinger

Joan Collins

Bo Derek

Jayne Mansfield

Rachel Welch

The list is long and includes some of Hollywood's top starlets...for several decades!

Which I believe underlines just how important nudity was to Playboy - it provided an outlet for these A Celebs to show their goodies AND return to their careers without skipping a beat.

The same can not be said for a publications like Hustler, SCREW, Swank or Penthouse. No disrespect to those publications but do you really think Rachel Welch could have posed for Hustler?

Playboy was not only good eats for already established celebs but the publication was also responsible for launching a few careers.

Women like...

Olivia Munn

Jenny McCarthy

Anna Nicole

Pamela Anderson

Marilyn Monroe

Yes, Marilyn Monroe - The First Playmate.

Monroe, was a budding actress prior to being featured in Playboy but her career took off after. She went on to be one of pop cultures most recognized sex symbols.

It can be argued that the nudity featured in Playboy gave a long list of women...choices.

Whether it was for the fame or just the fortune - it's been reported that Lindsay Lohan earned $1 million for her Marilyn Monroe knock off pictorial - Playboy has without question empowered a huge list of women.

Empowerment isn't FREE.

Sometimes the cost is exposing yourself for the world to see.

Now, I'm not naïve. I know that we live in a society where any celeb or wanna be can empower themselves with a simple click of the camera on their cellphone.

But it's not Playboy.

For celebs those "selfies" are worth 3 minutes of promo and for the wanna be celebs it's possible that they may earn a Like or heart or whatever recognition the site that they sold their soul to features.

As I mentioned before, if those same Snap Chat/Instagram/Facebook/Twitter photos are featured in Playboy they become part of something.

With Playboy going non-nude they have turned their back on those models out there that are looking to them for an opportunity to reach the next level.

I would be an idiot not to admit that I hope Top Floor Magazine eventually fills the void but DAMN it would be nice to WIN that title without the champ vacating it. So here's to Playboy and their new endeavor!

When all is said and done, going non-nude shouldn't have any effect at all. We all read Playboy for the articles, right?

Stripper Facts & Figures

- Strippers earn more when they're ovulating. Strippers make an average of $30 per hour more when they are ovulating than when they are menstruating, according to a study by the University of New Mexico.
- Some say they make as much as lawyers...
How much money does a stripper typically earn? According to a new study from the University of Leeds in the U.K., it's around $74,000.
- One-in-three strippers really 'are' putting themselves through college. A study found that 33 percent are, in fact, telling you the truth: It's college by day, stripping by night.
- One-in-five female strippers has dated a customer; as have three-in-four male strippers.

Hand job

Three guys go to a ski lodge, and there aren't enough rooms, so they have to share a bed. In the middle of the night, the guy on the right wakes up and says, "I had this wild, vivid dream of getting a hand job!"

The guy on the left wakes up, and unbelievably, he's had the same dream, too. Then the guy in the middle wakes up and says, "That's funny, I dreamed I was skiing!"

Flashlight

A man and a woman started to have sex in the middle of a dark forest. After about 15 minutes of it, the man finally gets up and says, "Damn, I wish I had a flashlight!". The woman says, "Me too, you've been eating grass for the past ten minutes!"

Sexual Exhaustion

A teacher was wrapping up class, and started talking about tomorrow's final exam. He said there would be no excuses for not showing up tomorrow, barring a dire medical condition or an immediate family member's death. One smart ass, male student said, "What about extreme sexual exhaustion?", and the whole classroom burst into laughter.

After the laughter had subsided, the teacher glared at the student, and said, "Not an excuse, you can use your other hand to write."

Blowjobs For Money

A husband comes home to find his wife with her suitcases packed in the living room. "Where the hell do you think you're going?" he says. "I'm going to Las Vegas. You can earn $400 for a blow job there, and I figured that I might as well earn money for what I do to you free."

The husband thinks for a moment, goes upstairs, and comes back down, with his suitcase packed as well. "Where do you think you going?" the wife asks. "I'm coming with you...I want to see how you survive on $800 a year!!!"

Police Officer

A police officer was patrolling the highway when he sees a guy tied up to a tree, crying. The officer stops and approaches the guy. "What's going on here?", he asks. The guy sobs, "I was driving and picked up a hitchhiker. He pulled a gun on me, robbed me, took all my money, my clothes, my car and then tied me up." The cop studied the guy for a moment, and then pulled down his pants and whipped out his dick. "I guess this isn't your lucky day, pal!"

Old Couple

An old man and an old lady are getting ready for bed one night when all of a sudden the woman bursts out of the bathroom, flings open her robe and yells "Super Pussy!" The old man says "I'll have the soup."

Three Girlfriends

Your best friend has three girlfriends. Their names are Doe, Ray, and Me.

All 3 wants to do something special so they set up some dates.

Three days ago Doe kisses him.

Two days ago Ray gives him vaginal sex.

Yesterday, who sucks his dick?

Two brothers enlisting in the Army were getting their physicals.

During the inspection, the doctor was surprised to discover that both of them possessed incredibly long, oversized penises.

"How do you account for this?" he asked the brothers.

"It's hereditary, sir," the older one replied.

"I see," said the doctor, writing in his file. "Your father's the reason for your elongated penises?"

"No sir, our mother."

"Your mother? You idiot, women don't have penises!"

"I know, sir," replied the recruit, "But she only had one arm, and when it came to getting us out of the bathtub, she had to manage as best she could."
